SUMMARY

I work with organizations when direction needs to be clarified, performance stabilized, or growth reignited — often in complex, international environments where expectations are high and time is limited.

Over the past years, I have led growth and transformation initiatives across People, Strategy, and Public Health, consistently in roles with operational and P&L accountability.

My expertise includes Quality Management, HR, M&A, Strategy, and Sales within medical technology and adjacent industries. I have operated across Europe, the US, China, and the Middle East.

My work typically starts at moments of transition: restructuring, post-merger integration, strategic realignment, or accelerated growth. I am often asked to step in when challenges initially appear unsolvable.

Today, I take on leadership roles and interim mandates, working closely with boards, shareholders, and teams to create clarity, traction, and measurable results.

Selected performance metrics related to transformation, growth, and turnaround initiatives are outlined in the “Fallstudie” and “Referenzen” section of this website.
